

ECOLOGUES

A conversation series about the climate emergency

The American Library in Paris, News Decoder and the Climate Academy at the European School Brussels II are delighted to announce Ecologues, a series of six interactive webinars featuring experts on various aspects of the environmental crisis.

January–
June 2023

The American
Library in Paris
10, rue du Général Camou,
75007 Paris • Online

19h–20h30
CET

What is the Climate Crisis?

How did we get here, and where are we going?

Environmental Economics

Finite resources, negative externalities, public goods, and market failures.

Environmental Justice

Just laws, regulations, and policies.

The Food Question

How to feed the world?

The Energy Question

Volatile gas and electricity prices, accelerating energy diversity, and cold months ahead.

Legislating for the Future

To legislate on behalf of the rivers and the trees? The children of the future?

Conversations will be hybrid, taking place in person at the American Library in Paris and online. Though participants are encouraged to join all six sessions for a holistic overview, the discrete and diverse nature of topics will allow audience members to attend based on interest.
